Angkor Wat is one of the great cultural wonders of the world, located in Cambodia and is the largest religious monument covering over 400 acres, with some 72 major temples.

Though just one of hundreds of surviving temples and structures, the massive Angkor Wat is the most famed of all Cambodia's temples—it appears on the nation's flag—and it is revered for good reason. The 12th century “temple-mountain” was built as a spiritual home for the Hindu god Vishnu.

It took only 35 years to build Angkor Wat. Around 1,000 elephants, in addition to 300,000 human labourers helped to build the temple. Five million tons of sandstone were also used to build the religious site 900 years ago.
